

FOR LODGES, CAMPS, GUIDES AND RESTAURANTS IN NAMIBIA

Your guests are planning the whole trip before they land.

NamibWay is a travel platform built for Namibia alone. Our AI travel companion, Kaia, interviews the traveller and builds one complete, bookable route — where they sleep, what they do, where they eat, how far they drive each day. Being listed means being part of that plan, not one of forty results on a search page.

01

Real requests, not a flood

A traveller can only have one booking request running at a time, and only after they have an account, a name, and firm dates. You hear from people who have actually decided — not from someone shopping twelve lodges at once.

02

Free to list, and yours

A listing is free to create and free to keep, and it is yours: your description, your photographs, your rates. No software to install, no channel manager required. A request arrives as an email with two buttons — confirm or decline. That is the whole workflow.

03

As much system as you want

Answer by email and nothing changes. Or run the property here: an occupancy calendar, your own rates and seasons, walk-in bookings taken at the desk, and invoices with VAT and the levy on their own lines. Already on ResRequest, NightsBridge or hopeCloud? We can connect to that instead.

We have already prepared one for most Namibian properties from public information. Scan the code, or write to team@namibway.com and we will send you the link to your own listing.

HOW IT WORKS

1

Claim your listing

We have already prepared a free listing for most Namibian properties from public information. Claiming takes a minute and hands you the keys.

2

Say how to reach you

One-click email is the default and needs no setup. Connect ResRequest, NightsBridge or hopeCloud instead — or keep your calendar and rates here, and let us answer from those.

3

Answer in one click

Every request email carries a confirm and a decline link that works without logging in. Rooms we hold for you are released automatically if the request goes stale, so nothing sits blocked.

4

The guest arrives prepared

They travel with a plan — your arrival time, the drive that gets them to you, and what they are doing the next morning.

HOW THIS IS DIFFERENT FROM A BOOKING PORTAL

	TYPICAL BOOKING PORTAL	NAMIBWAY
Cost to be listed	Free, but visibility is paid	Free, and free to keep
What the traveller gets	A list of properties to compare	One planned route, with you in it
Requests you receive	Every speculative search	One committed traveller at a time
Driving times and routing	Not their problem	Planned from real road data, so guests arrive when they say they will
Languages	Global	English, German, Dutch, French, Spanish — Namibia's actual source markets
Running the property day to day	Not what they do	A calendar, your rates, the front desk and the invoice — if you want them
Who answers the guest afterwards	Nobody	We do, before and during the trip

What it costs

Listing is free and stays free. We earn a commission only when a booking is confirmed — deliberately set below the rates the international portals charge.

Nothing is owed on requests you decline, on requests that expire, or on guests who book with you directly after finding you here.

Where we are today

NamibWay is live and we are signing our founding partners now, so your property is among the first travellers see. The booking system behind the platform is open to partners who want it — ask us.

If something about the way requests reach you does not fit how you work, say so — at this stage we can still change it.

Claim your listing, or just ask us anything.
